The president's address

As a leading company in the low voltage electric industry worldwide, Simon has established a perfect combination of quality and service from nearly 100 years of continuous development.

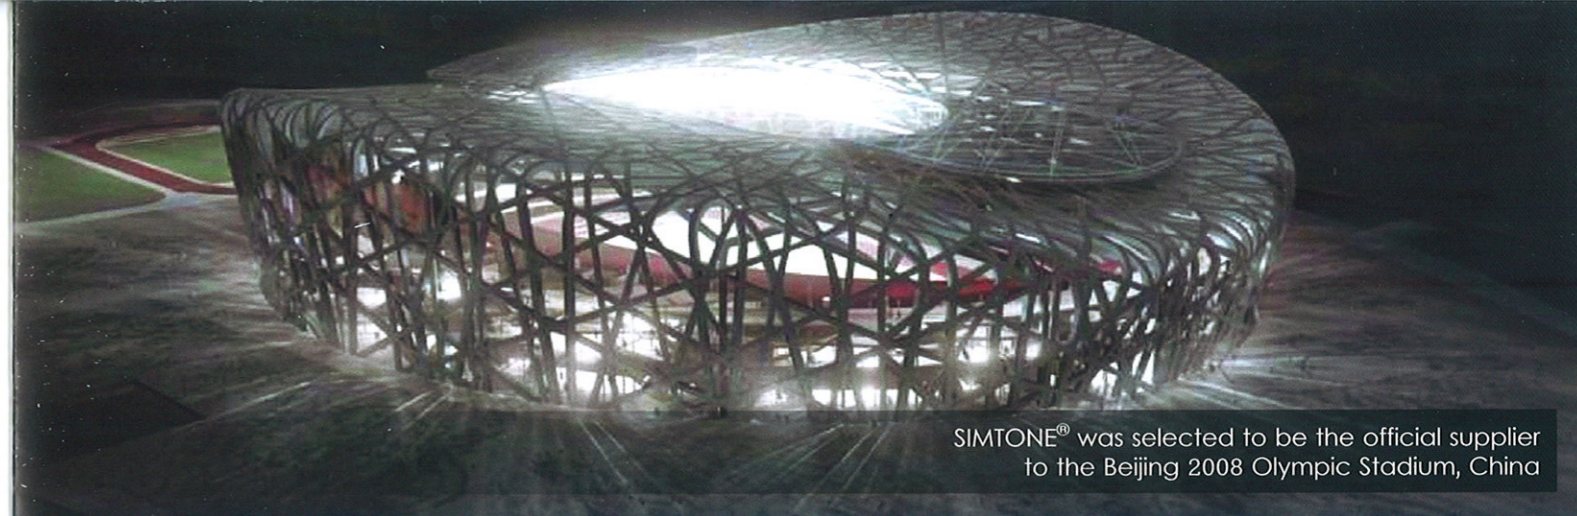

Since the historic expansion into the Asia market in 1999, Simon has contributed greatly by providing consumers with products of the most advanced technology coupled with elegant style; not forgetting our commitment to excellent service. In Simon, creating extra values for our customer seems to be a religion that we have embraced.

In the present world of economic globalization, it brings us with both great opportunities and challenges. Hence, we are increasing our efforts in assuring every product meets international regulation, quality and business standards.

At last, on behalf of the staff of Simon, I would like to express my heartfelt gratitude for sharing our commitment and your consistent support.

Yours sincerely,

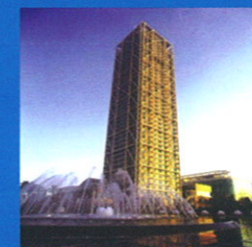

President of Simon Holding
